The Last Rebel Invasion

The following judicious article is from the Sacramento Union:

The final returns will probably announce a clear Union triumph in Pennsylvania, Ohio and also in Indiana and Nebraska. But it will be a victory like that at Gettysburg over a rebel invasion. Every sign indicates that the rebel Copperhead coalition have played this game with loaded dice. They have manifested the same persistent vigor and lack of scruple as to means which characterized them during the war. Their heavy gains are found in cities and border counties colonized with the rebels. New York City we know overflows with these carpet baggers, and to Philadelphia apparently has been distributed such a portion as was deemed sufficient. Into the Southern portions of Ohio and Indiana it was easy to send and safe to spare enough of the 40,000 rebel majority in Kentucky to overcome the presumed Republican majorities in other parts of those States. Indeed, the rebels have apparently failed in this game only because they underestimated the vote against them. They were able and willing to colonize voters enough to effect their object. They would not hesitate at any frauds found necessary. They have, in the Ku Klux Klan, by their own confession, a military organization of over half a million. In that secret association there are men who stickle not at midnight assassination—why should they at ballot box stuffing? They are as ready and almost as eager to accept criminal commissions as were the Thugs of India, to whom murder was a religion. There is a notorious repletion of rebel residents in New York, Philadelphia and other cities, in border districts, and wherever Copperhead sympathizers abound or other conveniences exist to cloak their operations. The bold, confident, defiant air of this class of men everywhere indicates that they have been working by occult means, by secret combinations, and in ways that honest men cannot use against them. They have been running mines underneath loyal States, and exploding them in unexpected places. They apply the unscrupulous strategy of war to politics, and care not how they win if only win they can.

Nor do they lack for financial means, which they doubtless find to be the sinews of politics even more than of war. They have stealings of the Whisky Ring from the Government, amounting to not less than fifty millions of dollars during the last year alone. This is particularly available in Bourbonized and Bourbon making Kentucky, where the distillers have an armed organization which resist the mandates of the Federal Courts, and recently came near lynching the United States Marshal who went with the troops to serve writs upon revenue defrauders. Moreover, the cotton States have just realized upon a cotton crop worth $250,000,000 and have another as valuable, maturing. These rebels are not nearly so poor as they pretend. An agricultural region like the South more speedily resuscitates than one in which industry is greatly diversified. A good cotton crop any year makes the improvident planters as rich as they ever were. Nor does Ben Hill hesitate to declare that the rebel class still own the property and the crops in their section. Ample means, therefore, are in their hands with which to colonize their Ku Klux myrmidons and corrupt Northern cities. We have reason to believe that the very treasury and the revenue offices of the republic are perverted to the use of this rebel Copperhead coalition. Under such circumstances, it would not have been wonderful had we lost all of the States which have been saved so nobly from its grasp.

The lesson of these elections, therefore, is—Look out for frauds. Let every poll list be scrutinized, especially in cities, and take care that on the three days preceding the election, and on the day itself, perjury be not allowed to pass unchallenged or unnoted. There is no reason to believe that in this, or any other State, there will be any Democratic gain from Republican ranks, but the reverse. Our friends in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana have, we venture to say in advance, done as nobly as in Maine or Vermont. But even in the latter States it was evident that Democratic votes were manufactured. They came from nowhere—or they came in "carpet bags." In Maine the Democracy polled many thousands more than ever before, though the Republican vote did not fall below its highest notch. The same suspicious fact is manifest in Philadelphia, in the Southern districts of Indiana and in Ohio. Our canvassers in Indianapolis at first announced the usual Republican majority of the State, probably estimating upon the basis of former votes. This was incautious. They should have waited and let Egypt commit itself to something, for Egypt was probably waiting to know how much majority it was required to overcome. These Egypts of Democracy can do anything occasion calls for. A little light should be let in upon them beforehand, and a good watch set therein at all times. The Union watchfires must be kept brightly blazing, and the Union sentinels be on the alert, till the last vote is counted. These October elections are useful in proving the need of activity, energy and circumspection. They evince the unscrupulous character of the efforts used against us, and so much the more they reveal the dangers which impend over the nation. Let the lesson be heeded as by brave and earnest men. Fraud and force are to be used, but they will not win. They will not elect Seymour nor carry California, if Union men do their duty.

THE LEGISLATURE.—The Mountaineer has some very just remarks on the Legislature and its actions, which are worth attention. We republish them:

The course taken by the present Legislature is surely going to act very unfavorably against us in Congress. They have declared that Congress is a revolutionary body, that its acts have been unconstitutional, have passed resolutions denouncing our Senators and asking them to resign, and among other things, showing that the majority of that body are not only Democrats but Southern sympathizers and rebels at heart. This same body are preparing memorials, praying this revolutionary Congress to lend assistance in the way of money and lands to build railroads, light houses, custom houses, mints and other public improvements for the immediate benefit of Oregon. What impudence! Do they expect that their prayers will amount to anything? We think not, unless their matters are placed in the hands of those same Senators whom this Legislature have so shamefully abused. We honestly believe that the action of this Legislature has disgusted a great many good and honest Democrats with their workings and doings, which will go far towards reducing the Democratic majorities in this State on the 3d day of November next, if it does not change the entire political aspect in Oregon, and give the State to Grant and Colfax.

DUKE GWIN.—From the Reno Crescent we clip the following in relation to this splinter from the back-bone of secession:

"This white haired old traitor was in Reno last week. For nearly a dozen years he represented the South in Congress from California and finally went with Mississippi down the vortex of secession. How he used to fool us about a Pacific Railroad; how he used to talk about preliminary surveys and things, but nothing more. When he got on the train the other day and made the compass of the Sierras in eight or nine hours, how he must have cursed himself that he did not first put that mighty work in progress, and thereby leave one mark to rescue his name from oblivion. Poor old Gwin! He deserves a little hate, a good deal of pity and contempt."

Those very accurate historians who are always hunting up facts, and who make such havoc with traditions, had no merits in the eyes of Charles Lamb. "I do not like," said he, "to have my old articles of faith destroyed. Here's some confounded fellow published a new Life of Shakspeare, in which he maintains that Cervantes and glorious Will did not die on the same day. The man's a fool. I say they did, or ought to have done so, if Providence understood its business. I can hear their disembodied spirits explaining to each other the madness of Hamlet and Don Quixote. These fellows who go about stirring up unsavory facts, will want me next to give up Jack the Giant killer. But I'll see 'em hanged first."

Under the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution the colored people must either vote or cease to be represented. That amendment is now a part of the Constitution, and it is a question to be considered whether the loss of two hundred thousand people from her representation basis has not already deprived the State of Maryland of one elector and one Representative in Congress.

Campaign Arguments

The [illegible] meeting at Albany [illegible] the Rebel:

The Den[illegible] the Court House in this city on Wednesday night. The speaking was [illegible] P. M., but as [illegible] bills were issued calling the faithful together at night. We arrived [illegible] hear Mr. Slater, who [illegible] in the usual style, and [illegible] glory. The cheering came in here. Mr. [illegible] was then introduced, who said that he did not come here to denounce Republicans [illegible] their displeasure by bitter denunciations, but [illegible] to argufy, and by the introduction of unanswerable propositions convert [illegible] to the Democratic faith. He remarked that as the gentleman who preceded him had used up the financial question, he broached a new subject [illegible] entirely new light. He first got into the Mediterranean sea, then into Greece, talked about the written law and "fundamental principles," and in less than three minutes he landed in Africa. And then he seemed perfectly at home! But didn't the nigs catch it neither! The ignorant, tyrannical smelling rapscallions, who never had a book or newspaper until it was taken there by some civilized nation, but who "bowed down to stocks and stones and to wooden and graven images," and were truly genuine savages, cannibals and all that, were handled in true Democratic style by the able speakist! He surely thought that it was a thousand dollars out of each one of their pockets that they were born at all. His essay onto the African was beautiful and being entirely new, an original production of a giant mind (?) was greeted with great "unanimity." Having given the African an airing by the "light of reason," he broached a new subject, which he handled as ably as a first class artist of the brush, and while treating onto the new subject, eloquence fell from his massive chiseled lips, like water through a sieve. His subject now was the nigger, and he asked with eyes flashing the while like diamonds (California) in their settings, "Is there a man here who thinks a nigger is the equal of a white man—if there is, let him rise!" Quiet reigned—not a man stirred! Then proud defiance shone in the brave Grover's face, and he offered a few brief words and "I am done" in defending the white man against the encroachments of the "wily and insidious African." After a thorough and exhaustive treatment of this new subject, he proceeded to orate on other topics of "vital importance to the nation," viz., the attempt to make the negro our equal socially and politically in this government. He talked! We assert without fear of contradiction that Grover can talk on this new and "vital" subject as long as any other man in his party without stimulants. His gray clothes "fit" him well and his voice sounded like a funeral knell as it rolled through the court room, dimly lighted by lamps with beautifully smoked chimneys, and we pronounce his piece as very well spoken indeed. He produced such a powerful impression, that we are sanguine in the belief that he will never be forced by the people of Oregon to leave his peaceful home to enter into the strife and turmoils necessarily following an entrance into the United States Senate.

The French of California.

Monsieur Gillet, a French citizen, has just issued a pamphlet of twenty pages, addressed to the French of California, upon the political issues which divide the two great parties of the present day. We copy the concluding paragraphs as showing what the better class of our French population think of the men who have so faithfully labored for their country's good. The following is the extract:

"Frenchmen: Away with all indecision! If you are in favor of the party of order and honesty, vote for Grant; if you prefer that of the demagogue, vote for Seymour.

"If you are for liberty, Union and progress, vote for Grant; if you are for prejudices, disunion and ruin, vote for Seymour.

"If you want to pay the national debt honestly, in gold, according to contract, vote for Grant; if you think it ought to be paid in greenbacks and that the bonds and paper of the Government should be taxed, then vote for Seymour.

"If you think it just and humane to give colored men the same civil and political rights as the whites, vote for Grant; if you think with the Democrats that the dark skinned man is an animal that has no rights that a white man is bound to respect, vote for Seymour.

"If you are for the education of the masses, vote for Grant; if you prefer ignorance, vote for Seymour.

"If you think the honor of the country demands that the President should be a statesman, a sincere, honest and capable man, vote for Grant; if you think it better to have a demagogue and politician, vote for Seymour.

"You who still preserve in your hearts the traditions of your mother country, will vote for Grant; but you who cherish rancor and bitterness against what is good, just and generous, will vote for Seymour.

"Ah, for the honor of the French name may those latter be rare. To the rescue then, and let us flaunt aloft the standard of France alongside of the glorious flag of Grant, for there is where it belongs and not near that of Seymour, which is the standard of insurrection and demagoguery.

"And now, Frenchmen, three hurrahs for Grant and Colfax. Three more hurrahs for America and for France."

DEATH OF A PROOF READER.—The Boston Advertiser announces the death, August 3d, of William Wilson, the best proof reader of America, aged sixty three. It says he was a complete master of the profession as well as the art of printing, and adds:

The profession to which we allude commences where the art of manipulating type, making up forms and working a press ceases. It requires a knowledge of many languages, a familiarity with many sciences and a mastery of style and forms of expression. All these requirements Mr. Wilson possessed. He was not only familiar with the modern languages but he was an authority on Greek accents and Hebrew points, and he was often at the cases setting up matter which no person in the office but himself could understand.

As a proof reader Mr. Wilson was unrivalled. Many a young author and many old writers also, have had lessons in style from his lips and his proof sheets, for which they have occasion to revere his memory. And all this instruction was imparted with such kindness and fatherly solicitude. The idea that he was working for money, at so much a thousand ems, would never suggest itself in intercourse with him. There was no limit to his patience, or his kindness, and to his care that a work should appear without fault in manner and style as well as in typography. It was nothing to him if the press was waiting if a question of fact or date was undecided, and no one was more keen to detect such errors in the last revision than himself. If he had been less conscientious he would have made more money, but he would not have been par excellence the printer of the land.

At Plainfield, Ind., a person on board an excursion train cheered for Grant, whereupon some White Boys in Blue made insulting remarks, and slapped a man in the face who declared his preference for Grant. The latter drew a pistol, fired several shots, one of which took fatal effect, and then escaped from the train.

France will no longer send her European convicts to almost certain death in Cayenne, that island being now reserved for Arabs, with whom the climate agrees. All others are to be exiled to New Caledonia, which is said to be healthy and fertile. This was a great step forward in humanity as in common sense.

In Ohio they measure audiences at Republican meetings by the acre. Two acres of people listened [illegible] John M. P[illegible] were present at [illegible] meeting.

A Minnesota paper says: "We saw in Winona, a few days since, on a little wild weed, one inch long, sixteen thousand potato bugs."

HOW WILL IT AFFECT SAN FRANCISCO?—LOSS OF A LARGE TRADE THREATENED.—Hitherto San Francisco has been the supply depot for Oregon, Washington Territory, Idaho and a portion of Montana. This trade has been one of no little importance to this port, being worth many thousands of dollars annually. If the movement recently inaugurated by the merchants of Portland proves successful, all of this valuable trade will be lost to San Francisco and the commercial importance of the city materially diminished. Already several ships have sailed from New York, laden with general merchandise, direct for Portland, and preparations are making for shipping all the goods required for that market. If one cargo can be taken direct to Portland, a dozen can, and as it will cost no more to send a ship to that place from New York than it does to send one here, the probabilities are that Portland will soon cease to purchase in this market, while the grain and other produce of Oregon will be exported direct from Portland instead of through this port. It will thus be seen that a valuable portion of our trade is seriously threatened. With the exorbitant port charges ruling here, it is folly to expect to keep our trade from seeking other channels, and in this matter our merchants have been woefully blind to their own and the interests of the city. The Chamber of Commerce has steadily opposed all movements for increasing communication to and from this city, and by its course in relation to the city front, has assisted in materially increasing wharf and dock charges to a frightful [illegible]. The difference in port and wharf charges in San Francisco and Portland is enough in favor of the latter to amount to a fair profit on a general cargo of merchandise. People may fancy that the Columbia Bar offers serious obstructions to vessels from New York. Not so. With good tug-boats those obstructions can be readily overcome, and vessels taken into Portland with as little risk as they are brought into this port. Our merchants and business men should look into this matter, and adopt vigorous measures, or else our commercial supremacy will be destroyed. Trade here is dull enough already. What will it be if we lose the trade of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, with the city debarred of quick and easy modes of communication with all parts of the interior?—San Francisco Call.

Railroad Enterprises

Oregon wants railroads and for several years has been endeavoring to enlist capital from abroad in the work of building them. It should be of little consequence who furnishes the money so that we get it and secure the railway communications which we need. For this reason we look with favor on the enterprise of the Holladay Company, just as we should do in the case of any other like enterprise which seemed to promise good results for Oregon. Any railroad that can be built through our State must contribute to its improvement, development and prosperity. It seems to us that it is not good policy to condemn one enterprise or another, but to speak respectfully of all. While we hope that the West Side Company will build their road, we see no reason why the building of the East Side road is not also to be desired and encouraged.

The idea of the Holladay Company is to build a road through Oregon to California, according to the original idea of an Oregon and California road, as provided for and subsidized by act of Congress. It is not profitable in this place to enter into the controversy about the land grant. That matter, if the controversy is continued, will be settled by the proper authority. But we wish to say that we are pleased with the energy which the Holladay Company are manifesting, and with the preparations they are making for the rapid prosecution of their work. Their grading force, consisting at present of six or seven hundred men, is divided into four parties. One party is at work at Oregon City, another is beyond Pudding river, a third is near Salem, and the fourth is south of Corvallis. This force will be kept at work until the rains compel a discontinuance of the grading. In the meantime preparations are making for sawing a vast amount of timber during the winter for the road. Three large steam saw-mills will be kept constantly at work. Two of them are already in operation, and the third will be set up and put to work at once. It is expected that a large portion of the ties and timber for the trestle-work required for the first division of the road will be cut out during the winter. We see no reason to doubt that a considerable part of the road through the Wallamet valley will be completed within a year. Mr. Emmet, of this company, goes East by the steamer of to-day, and he informs us that they will have several cargoes of iron in the river by the next summer's rise. We hope in a short time to be able to speak more at large of the prospects of this enterprise and the objects of those who are pushing it forward.

Another Copperhead Battery Silenced.

During the last two years a crowd of unscrupulous Copperhead writers and speakers have been assailing the State officers for their alleged mismanagement of the public funds, accusing them of peculation, and charging them with an endless variety of dishonest practices upon the treasury. Before the Legislature met we were told in ominous phrase that the Black Republican officials might look out; that the Legislature would show them whether they could continue their frauds with impunity. Well, the Legislature met, and about the first thing done was to appoint a joint committee to investigate the affairs of the treasury. Experienced accountants were hired at large pay to sift matters from top to bottom. More than a month was consumed in the investigation, and not the smallest delinquency on the part of any officer could be shown. In fact this inquisitorial examination of the accounts brought the State out in debt by a trifling amount to the treasurer, which we hope that officer will commence suit to recover without delay. Thus has terminated this great Copperhead hullabaloo about the "Radical" officials swindling the State." It has ended just as we predicted it would. Probably we have now heard the last from Ben Hayden, Beriah Brown and others of that kidney, which we shall ever hear on this subject. There is one theme the less for their lying tongues to wag upon.

DEMOCRATIC IDENTITY.—In a late speech at Providence (R. I.) ex Senator Poland of Vermont said: "I heard an excellent story told the other day upon the stump, in relation to the identity of the old Democratic party with those of modern times. It was said by this man who told the story, that in a certain family they had a vinegar barrel that had remained for several generations in the family, and they had a great veneration for it. It was a grandfather's vinegar barrel, and they all reverenced it. But by and by the hoops had become rotten, and they were renewed, and the heads and the staves had given away, and they were replaced, and finally an inquiry was set on foot as to the identity of this barrel with grandfather's old vinegar barrel, and after a strict examination he said the only point of identity between the two, the only thing that remained of grandfather's old vinegar barrel, was the bung hole. And that is just about as much identity as there is between the modern Democratic party of the old time."

Beriah's very latest effort is an attempt to prove in an elaborate leader that the Republicans are more disappointed and dissatisfied than the Democrats with the results of the late elections! But the article is a plagiarism, as it is an almost exact repetition of Nasby's article on the Maine election. "The Radicals expected fully 23,000 majority and only got 22,000! Great Democratic victory!!"

The Democrats started out in the campaign furiously declaring that they intended to overturn the reconstruction acts. Since their whipping in the late elections they have all turned to protesting vigorously that they don't mean to disturb reconstruction at all! Could anything be more pitiful or disgusting than to witness such conduct in a party that claims the confidence of the country?

The Eastern elections show that no Republican has turned Democrat. The Democrats have given up all efforts to convince the Republicans, and have gone to manufacturing spurious votes. But even this rascally resource will not save them.

A large woolen mill is in course of construction at Sacramento, and the mill at Marysville has doubled its capacity. In California as in Oregon, the manufacture of woolen goods is rapidly increasing.

Seymour, in writing to a friend says, "The nomination has plunged me into a sea of troubles." Oceans of troubles since the October elections.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Oregon Legislature.

SALEM Oct 26.—In the House a resolution was adopted for a joint convention at 2 P. M.

A resolution was adopted directing our delegation in Congress to give their paramount support to Chapman's railroad memorial. This was amended in the Senate to include Gazley's railroad memorial. Both resolutions were adopted, and also adopted by the Senate.

The House ordered 100 copies printed of the report of the committee on the examination of the Treasurer's books and accounts.

Davenport moved to take up the Appropriation bill which the House refused by ayes 1[illegible], nays 22. Nays all Democrats.

The Senate general election bill was passed.

The vote by which the Sunday law was lost was reconsidered, and the bill passed.

A resolution was adopted proposing an amendment to the Constitution for pay of members of the Legislature—$4 per day and not to exceed for one session $240. Adopted by a party vote, Democrats voting for it.

The House tried to reconsider the vote on the resolution to adjourn sine die to-day, but the resolution was in the Senate and could not be reached.

Gazley moved to take up the appropriation bill. Ruled out of order because the bill was referred to committee of the whole.

After a bill or two had been acted upon Gazley moved to go into committee of the whole to consider the appropriation bill. Chapman [illegible] and the motion was not entertained by the Speaker.

The Senate bill to provide for building an insane asylum passed.

Minto moved to take up the appropriation bill. Ruled out of order by the Speaker.

At a quarter before 2 P. M. all the Republican members present, except Winston, handed in the Governor's acceptance of their resignations, and left the hall. The Democratic members then went into secret session and remained about an hour.

In the Senate, leave of absence was granted to Adams. Hendershott agreed to pair off with him on all political questions.

The following House bills were passed: To provide for the publication and distribution of the school laws, to tax stock of national banks. Several bills were lost in the afternoon.

Stout made a speech violently denouncing the Republican members for resigning. Hert answered to him in justification of the members. He said it was the only step left the minority to prevent the outrages in the programme of the majority.

Is He "Bought Up by the Radicals?"

A Johnson's letter on the subject of finances which is published among our dispatches to-day, is a piece of composition which would suit tolerably well for a leading article in Jasper Johnson's Herald. Every statement it contains has been answered and explained a thousand times. Johnson's factious opposition to the declared will of the nation has added very largely to the expenditures; but the greater part of the money which has been expended during the last three years has gone to pay claims growing directly out of the war. This fact has been repeatedly shown. The letter has scarcely merit enough to make a passable "leader" for a Copperhead newspaper of ordinary tact and ability. Andy seems determined to utterly ruin Seymour and Blair. If he keeps on the chances are that they will not carry a State. Qu. Have the 'Radicals' bought Andy up?

No doubt the Democrats now bitterly regret that they did not nominate Chase. By the statements of Alexander Long, Col Brown, Henry Reed and other Democrats, it is clear that an arrangement had been made on the night before the day on which the nomination was made, to bring forward the Chief Justice, that Seymour had a prepared speech, which was to have been delivered on his seconding the nomination of Judge Chase. The New York delegation voted the evening before to sustain the nomination of that functionary, but the adroitness of Vallandigham, and a few others in the secret, defeated the scheme and enabled the reactionists to triumph. Seymour, in tears, led out by the back stairs, and exclaiming to Peter Harvey, "Pity me, Harvey, pity me!" must have been a moving spectacle.

FRANK BLAIR IN 1861.—The Belmont (Ohio) Chronicle relates that "just before the close of the war, Frank Blair crossed the river at Bellaire. The trains missed connection, and it became the duty of a leading Democrat at Bellaire, who was high in the employ of the Central Ohio Railroad, to entertain Blair. A conversation occurred, in which the Democrat asked Blair how the people of the South could be reconciled after they were whipped into submission. Blair answered, 'I do not know, but if I had my way of it I would cut the levees of the Mississippi river and drown every d——d son of a b——h of them.'"

The Stockton (Cal.) Independent says that in a letter received by a gentleman of that place from a business man in San Francisco, the writer says: "Belmont, the New York banker, and agent for the Rothschilds, and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, telegraphed to his agent here that 'everything is going for Grant' and thus virtually throws up the Seymour sponge. Rothschilds hold many millions of Confederate bonds, which they hoped to make valuable by the election of Seymour."

Let the people observe how rapidly gold continues to go down as the election of Grant becomes more and more certain. Had the elections so far been in favor of the Democrats gold would now stand at 200. But as the nation becomes convinced that Grant is to be elected and that we are to have peace and security, with the maintenance of national honor and credit, gold is steadily going down, and the financial condition of the country is continually brightening.

It is decidedly an act of characteristic audacity for Andrew Johnson to arraign the Republican party and Congress for squandering the public money. Through the corruption of Andrew Johnson's administration, Democratic revenue officers have stolen over two hundred millions of the people's money, and this stealing, in spite of public protests, of Congressional legislation, and of the poverty of the Government, will continue until Grant gets installed in the White House.

Mr. Seymour seems to have spent a large portion of his life in acquiring the slippery use of words. There is no man in the whole country who can convey such objectionable sentiments in such unobjectionable language. He is the antipode and complement of his Democratic compeer Brick Pomeroy, who can hardly speak like a gentleman on the most ordinary or casual topic, having become so thoroughly habituated to the vulgarity and profanity which constitute the staple of modern Democracy.

S. S. Cox, known as "Sunset Cox," several years a Democratic member of Congress from Ohio, has recently been speaking for his party in several States. He is a frank, outspoken man and the only Democratic speaker who has ventured to denounce the Democratic platform on the debt question. Mr. Cox is reported by the N. Y. Sun to have said recently to a fellow Democrat: "I tell you, sir, it is no use shutting our eyes to plain facts. The popular enthusiasm for Grant is irresistible; he will sweep everything."

The Sacramento Bee says that Edward Stanley of San Francisco made a speech at Sacramento recently in behalf of the Democratic nominees, in which he held that negroes should not be allowed to vote in the South because they were not fit to exercise the right of suffrage, but claimed that most of them would vote for Seymour and Blair! Almost every Democratic speech and editorial jangles out of tune in this way.

The fact that Seymour refuses to go off the ticket seems to settle the question and show conclusively that the nomination was forced upon him!

One week from to-day (Tuesday) the Presidential election will occur. Republicans! make preparations to get your whole vote to the polls.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO OCTOBER 26.

Johnson Pettifogging about the Debt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The President has addressed a letter to General Thomas Ewing in relation to the national expenses and the public debt. After recapitulating briefly the history of the public debt after the [illegible] war, the war of 1812, and the Mexican war, he says the [illegible] in February, 1866, was twenty eight hundred millions. The expenditures during the last three years have been [illegible] ... three hundred and seventy three millions. He proceeds to say these startling facts thus concisely stated suggest an inquiry as to the cause of this increase in the expenditures and indebtedness of the country. During the late war the maintenance of the Federal [illegible] was the great purpose which animated our people. That economy should always characterize our [illegible] was overlooked in the great effort for the nation's existence. Many abuses which had an origin in the war continued. They existed long after it had been brought to a triumphant close. The people having been [illegible] ... money for such objects dear to them as the preservation of the integrity of the free institutions of their country have patiently borne the taxation of a most oppressive character. Large sums of money are thus exacted from the people and squandered in useless extravagance. Enormous expenditures are demanded for purposes the accomplishment of which require a large standing army, the presence of the [illegible] ... and the submission of States to negro domination, with a military establishment costing in time of peace a [illegible] one hundred millions and [illegible] one hundred and fifty millions [illegible] ... If however a wise economy should be adopted, taxation may soon be nominally reduced, not merely for the benefit of the few, but in the interest of all, and that revenue would remain sufficient for the administration of the government as well as to allow such a reduction of the public debt as would in a few years relieve the people from the millions of interest now annually drawn from them. The idea that the debt is to become permanent should be discountenanced as involving taxation too heavy to be borne, with the payment of an amount of interest every fifteen years equal to the original sum. The gradual liquidation of the public debt would by degrees release the large capital invested in government securities which would seek remuneration in other [illegible] ... add much to the wealth of the nation upon which there is a great drain. This immense debt, if permitted to become permanent, [illegible] ... in the hands of a few and would enable them to exert a dangerous and controlling power in the affairs of the government. The debtors would become the servants of the leaders and the creditors masters of the people. The letter concludes by declaring that the vital issue is whether Congress and its arbitrary assumption of authority shall supersede the supreme law of the land; whether in time of peace the country shall be controlled by a multitude of tax collectors and a standing army as numerous as that now maintained, making the debt a permanent burden upon the productive industry of the people; whether the Constitution with each and all of its guarantees shall be sacredly preserved; whether now as in 1789 and 1816 provision shall be made for the payment of our obligations at as early a period as practicable, that the fruits of their labor may be enjoyed by our citizens rather than to be used to build up and sustain [illegible] monopoly at home and abroad. The contest is not merely who shall accept the principal offices in the people's gift, but whether the high behests of the Federal Constitution shall be observed and maintained, in order that our liberties may be preserved and the Union [illegible], that our Federal system may be maintained, fraternal feeling re-established, that our [illegible] strength may be renewed and expenditures diminished, that taxes may be light and the public debt once more extinguished, that it may not injuriously affect the life, property and morals of the nation.

Another Massacre of Negroes in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24.—A row occurred to-night about ten o'clock between the white and negro clubs in Dryades street, where they were in close proximity. Several shots were fired. Three negroes were killed. Canal street was filled with debris, torches and lamps, and a large and excited crowd gathered in the vicinity. Nothing is yet learned in regard to the origin of the difficulty.

New York Items

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—James Brooks has received the nomination of all the Democratic organizations in the 5th District.

The Hamburg owners of the emigrant ship Leibnitz who were prosecuted here for cruelty to passengers during her voyage to America, have been acquitted.

Murder in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—Henry D. Christian, a detective, was found last night in an alley with a terrible wound in the back of his head, and died in about an hour. Christian has been occupied in ferreting out frauds on tobacco and has been instrumental in procuring witnesses against various parties.

The Troubles in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—The origin of the difficulty last night is difficult to discover. The Picayune says the negro club abused and insulted the Democratic club which was marching in their rear. Three whites and six blacks were killed. The stores at the corner of Baronne street were marked with bullets.

WHEELING, Oct. 26.—The Intelligencer (Republican) says our whole State ticket is elected by not less than 3,500 majority. We retain almost if not quite our usual majority in the Legislature, and have elected all our Congressmen.

The Register (Democratic) says: Returns from 18 counties show net Democratic gains of 2,000. Should the same ratio exist throughout the State the Democrats will carry the State by a handsome majority.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—The Government will immediately revise the pension list.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—The Avenir, the national Democratic organ, says that Ferdinand has declined the offered crown of Spain. The Duke de Montpensier would accept the crown.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Advices from Paraguay state that Lopez had arrived at Vienna.

It is stated that the authorities of Sydney have positive proof that the shooting of Prince Alfred was the result of a deeply laid plot. The details will be given to the public in a few days.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A special cable dispatch says that the loyal Americans and English friends of the Union are galled at the recent proceedings of Minister Johnson and think he went too far in greeting Laird in such a friendly manner.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—There is good reason to believe that the following is the substance of the protocol which has been agreed to by Johnson and Lord Stanley for the settlement of the Alabama dispute: A mixed commission, consisting of eight persons, appointed by Great Britain, and eight appointed by the United States, to sit in London and examine every claim presented whether by England or America, each case to be signed by the claimant either in person or by counsel. The Commission will make a final award. The question of International—— —— is to be referred to the arbitration of the Emperor of Russia. The protocol waits the approval of Secretary Seward.

Great Britain, France and Italy have recognized the present revolutionary movement of Spain.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—It is reported that Canda in Alicante has proclaimed a federal republic.

Disturbances have broken out in Malaga and Granada. Troops have been sent to the latter place.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The grand Union demonstration to-morrow night will probably be the largest political turn out ever witnessed on the Pacific coast. The committee of arrangements having the matter in hand are displaying the utmost energy and are determined that the demonstration shall be influential and memorable. It is urged that the residents of the buildings along the route of the procession favorable to the Union cause illuminate their stores and dwellings, and it is confidently expected that the request will be generally complied with.

The statements in regard to the injuries to the custom house by the late earthquake appear to have been greatly exaggerated. The damage to the building, according to competent authority, is only slight. Few repairs are necessary to render the structure tenable.

Two more vessels of the railroad iron fleet have arrived, and the J. Thompson, reported outside the heads, also has a large quantity of iron.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt this morning at 27 minutes past 2 o'clock.

Notwithstanding the assertions of the Principal of the Deaf and Dumb and Blind Asylum that the damage to the building by the earthquake is comparatively trifling, an examination of the edifice discloses a sad looking wreck. The upper portion of the walls have crumbled [illegible] at several different places on each side and the stones appear to be loose throughout the building. The mortar [illegible] between the fingers by the slight [illegible] at present. Whatever opinion experts may give to the contrary, the building certainly appears beyond repair [illegible].

The Pacific Mail steamer Golden Age arrived from [illegible].

The Campaign in California

PLACERVILLE, Oct. 26.—The Republicans are assembled in force to-night at Gaffet and Blaizer. The torch light procession is quite a grand feature. All portions of the county are fully represented. The meeting is by odds the largest political gathering ever held in this county. The Republicans express themselves entirely satisfied with the success. The Union residences on the line [illegible] are generally illuminated.

DAVENPORT, Oct. 27.—A large and enthusiastic Republican meeting is being held here to-night. Speeches by Edgerton [illegible] and others.

FROM THE NORTH

VICTORIA, Oct. 26.—Further particulars have been received from the wreck of the steamer Del Norte. It appears that the weather was quite clear until the vessel entered Partier Pass, when a dense fog suddenly enveloped her so that Capt. Winsor, not deeming it prudent to proceed, and not having room to turn the vessel commenced backing her out into the gulf, and it was while attempting this that she was carried by the current stern on up a Canoe Reef. On striking there was not much damage done beyond displacing the rudder and knocking away a portion of her false keel. The coal was immediately put forward to lighten her stern, her bow anchor run out in eighteen fathoms of water, her cables hauled taut and in this condition she lay snug until two o'clock the following morning, no doubts being entertained up to that time that she would be got off all right at the ensuing high tide. Shortly afterwards the tide was quite down and the vessel's stern left high and dry, when she suddenly took a sheer, letting her forward guards under water and breaking her stern post. The Active is now at the wreck, rendering all possible assistance, but it is believed that the ill fated vessel will prove a total loss. The report that no pilot was on board when the accident took place is contradicted.

The steamers Wyanda and Fidelater, from Sitka, have arrived at this port, but bring no news of importance. They experienced heavy gales and much fog.

STATE ITEMS

Several families are going into Goose Lake Valley this fall to settle there permanently.

The division question in Douglas county will be voted upon on the day of the Presidential election.

The rain has everywhere dispersed the smoke, and all our Oregon exchanges are rejoicing that the atmosphere is clear again.

G. L. Atkeson, who left Eugene City with his family a few days ago to settle in California, had $700 stolen from him between Eugene and Roseburg. The loss falls heavily upon him.

Just defeat the secession party this time, and either they will go out of sight or abandon their treasonable maneuvres and swindling platforms. They will learn that for them the war has indeed been a failure.

Come in the Forenoon to BUCHTEL'S GALLERY for the finest work in the art of Photography. Bon Pearls, Imperial Cards, Ambrotypes, Plain Photographs. Old Pictures Enlarged, Re-touched, Painted in Oil or Water Colors. Come in the morning.

IT IS AN INVARIABLE LAW OF NATURE, that every human being shall do those acts which he thinks will secure good to him, and that he shall avail those acts which may occasion a loss to him or the family he is a member of. In conformity with that law it is the duty of every person to purchase of Kohn & Fishel all the goods they may be in need of. The fair sex, who certainly are always most happy to comply with a change beneficial to themselves and families, should not fail to examine the fine and extensive stock of Kohn & Fishel, and they will confess their stock of Dry Goods is be of superior quality and at figures below other houses. Men, more bold and less calculating than our fair ladies, should be reminded that Kohn & Fishel, indeed, are the leaders of fashion, the lowest in price, and no man should wear clothes unless they are purchased at Kohn & Fishel's, No. 91 Front street.

NOTICE

To all Persons having Demands on the United States or on any State.

BOUNTY LAND GRANTED TO ALL PERSONS serving in any War in which the United States has been engaged, to 3d March 1855. Teamsters are entitled who served in the Mexican War.

PRIZE MONEY paid all persons attached to vessels or squadrons which captured Prizes during the late War. The undersigned has a PRIZE LIST.

Several SPOLIATION CLAIMS were referred, last Session of Congress, to the Committee on Claims in the Senate, with prospects of payment. More such are desired by the undersigned.

PENSIONS are increased under a late Act of Congress (governed by wound or disability) to $15, $20 and $25 per month and paid, in case of death of soldier, to mother, father, brother or sister—the arrears back to time of discharge or death of soldier to be paid by Pension Agent here and not by Third Auditor as formerly. Many persons who are now receiving such aid, are not aware that they are entitled in some cases to a large amount of back pension. Heirs (of deceased soldiers entitled to a pension) had better apply to the undersigned, who gives gratuitous information to all desiring it.

BOUNTIES obtained when Discharge is lost, as well as with the discharge.

The Oregon, Washington and California Indian War Debts are being paid off gradually. Hundreds of these claims are yet in circulation, which have been suspended for want of additional evidence, or abandoned for want of perseverance to urge them to payment. The undersigned has collected many claims which have been abandoned by agents and owners, and he therefore requests all persons having such demands on the government, or on any State, to give him a call.

PATENTS on Improvements and on inventions obtained in the shortest time possible.

[illegible]—At former times and in other places on [illegible] the killing of a human being excited com[illegible] little feeling outside of the circle of the [illegible] acquaintances of the deceased or when f[illegible] the part of the public towards criminals [illegible] for men were disposed to take the law into [illegible] hands and mete out swift retribution against [illegible] crime. The prevalence of law and [illegible] order, and the certainty of obtaining justice by [illegible] to the proper authorities in our city he [illegible] the excitement which was felt yester[illegible] at the terrible tragedy we are about to [illegible] stories were afloat as to the [illegible] of the affair but the facts in the case [illegible] as we could gather them are about as follows [illegible] O F Bertrand came to this city from Ari[illegible] that his object in coming was to have a [illegible] of a large demand he claimed to have against [illegible] a [illegible] of this city. On several [illegible] had importuned Meier for a settle[illegible] made some threats that unless an ar[illegible] made he (Bertrand) would have satis[illegible]. Harsh ill feelings doubtless existed between [illegible] them, as was shown by the words and con[illegible] during the past few days. On yes[illegible] Mr Meier was seen to enter his ware[illegible] nearly filled with sacks of grain a nar[illegible] only being open from the front to the back [illegible] and no one who saw Bertrand enter. Mr [illegible] at work just to the right of the front [illegible] and others in the vicinity heard the report [illegible] Bertrand came out immediately after and [illegible] said to Mr Cohen "I've shot that [illegible] and expect I have killed him." Mr C at [illegible] but little attention but thinking of the shot [illegible] to the door and looked in and saw [illegible] a pile of sacks. He gave the alarm im[illegible] any one reached the spot, the man [illegible] The ball from a revolver had entered his [illegible] three inches below the left ear passing enti[illegible] struck the window sash in the rear of the [illegible] out. J C [illegible] of the Peace, held an inquest upon the [illegible] the [illegible] being absent. The [illegible] verdict "That the deceased came to [illegible] gunshot wound by the hands of some per[illegible] the jury." We are aware that much [illegible] against the violence and lawlessness of such [illegible] wish to make any comments as to the case, but prefer to let the law take its [illegible] offender, feeling [illegible] that justice will [illegible]

[illegible]—We have been requested to call at[illegible] the advantages which would accrue to both [illegible] and consumers from the establishment of a [illegible] in the city to which families might resort [illegible] of farm produce, and where the farmer [illegible] carrying round to the various stores grain [illegible], which he is obliged to sell at whatever [illegible] offered rather than to return home with his [illegible] take it direct to the market where he [illegible] into immediate contact with the consum[illegible] at all times give the fair and proper price [illegible] great [illegible] of his farm [illegible] fresh [illegible] eggs, at the lowest price. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Man wants a TONIC—no uncommon want—
And every year and month brings forth a new one,
Which after cramming the gazettes with cant,
The age discovers to be not the true one.
Of such as these let their concoctors vaunt,
I'll sing the BITTERS that have credit due [illegible]
The world's great Tonic, which no skill can better—
I mean the matchless BITTERS of HOSTETTER,
Doctors were living long before old Galen
And since, exceeding learned, grave and sage;
But the stomachics they were bound to fail in
Success came not until this later age
Now is the era sick folks are made well in,
And dread dyspepsia driven from the stage,
Agues, remittents head aches—real head splitters—
Vanish like smoke before HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.
Herbs barks and roots compose the rare infusion;
No mineral poison mars their juices pure,
And Rye's mild [illegible] holds them in solution,
The taste is pleasant, the effect is sure.
No or have the Bitters yet proved a delusion;
Try them in time, and health and strength [illegible]
The dragon slayer figures on the label
And they like him to save the weak are able.

Buckle on the Character and Position of Spain

In the present posture of affairs in Spain we believe that most of our readers will be interested in the extract from Buckle's "History of Civilization," which we print below. It forms the concluding portion of his remarkable chapter on the "History of the Spanish Intellect from the Fifth to the middle of the Nineteenth Century."

The reader will now be able to understand the real nature of Spanish civilization. He will see how under the high sounding names of loyalty and religion lurk the deadly evils which those names have always concealed but which it is the business of the historian to drag to light and expose. A blind spirit of reverence taking the form of an unworthy and ignominious submission to the Crown and Church is the capital and essential vice of the Spanish. It is their sole national vice, and it has sufficed to ruin them. From it all nations have grievously suffered and many suffer still. But nowhere in Europe has this principle been so long supreme as in Spain. Therefore nowhere else in Europe are the consequences so manifest and so fatal. The idea of liberty is extinct, if indeed, in the true sense of the word, it ever can be said to have existed. Outbreaks, no doubt, there have been and will be, but they are bursts of lawlessness rather than of liberty. In the most civilized countries the tendency always is to obey even unjust laws but while obeying them, to insist on their repeal. This is because we perceive that it is better to remove grievances than to resist them. While we submit to the particular hardship we assail the system from which the hardship flows. For a nation to take this view requires a certain result of mind, which, in the darker periods of European history, was unattainable. Hence we find that, in the middle ages, though tumults were incessant rebellions were rare. But since the sixteenth century local insurrections, provoked by immediate injustice are diminishing and are being superseded by revolutions which strike at once at the source from whence injustice proceeds. There can be no doubt that this change is beneficial partly because it is always good to rise from effects to causes and partly because revolutions being less frequent than insurrections, the peace of society would be more rarely disturbed if men confined themselves entirely to the larger remedy. At the same time, insurrections are generally wrong, revolutions are always right. An insurrection is too often the mad and passionate effort of ignorant persons who are impatient under some immediate injury, and never stoop to investigate its remote and general causes. But a revolution when it is the work of the nation itself is a splendid and imposing spectacle because to the moral quality of indignation produced by the presence of evil, it adds the intellectual qualities of foresight and combination; and, uniting in the same act some of the highest properties of our nature it achieves a double purpose not only punishing the oppressor, but also relieving the oppressed.

"In Spain, however, there never has been a revolution, properly so called, there never has even been one grand national rebellion. The people though often lawless, are never free. Among them we find still preserved that peculiar taint of barbarism which makes men prefer occasional disobedience to systematic liberty. Certain feelings there are of our common nature which even their slavish loyalty cannot eradicate which from time to time urge them to resist injustice. Such instincts are happily the inalienable lot of humanity, which we cannot forfeit if we would, and which are too often the last resource against the extravagancies of tyranny. And this is all that Spain now possesses. The Spaniards, therefore, resist, not because they are Spaniards, but because they are men. Still even while they resist they revere. While they will rise up against the vexatious impost, they crouch before a system of which the impost is the smallest evil. They smite the tax-gather, but fall prostrate at the feet of the contemptible Prince for whom the tax gather plies his craft. They will even revile the troublesome and importunate monk, or sometimes they will scoff at the sleek and arrogant priest, while such is their infatuation that they would risk their lives in defense of that cruel Church which has inflicted on them hideous calamities, but to which they still cling as if it were the dearest object of their affections.

"Connected with these habits of mind and in south, forming part of them, we find a reverence for antiquity, and an inordinate tenacity of old opinions, old beliefs, and old habits, which remind us of those tropical civilizations which formerly flourished. Such prejudices were once universal even in Europe but they began to die out in the sixteenth century and are now comparatively speaking, extinct, except in Spain, where they were always welcomed. In that country they retain their original force, and produce their natural results. By encouraging the notion that all the truths most important to know are already known, they repress those aspirations, and dull that generous confidence in the future without which nothing really great can we achieve. A people who regard the past with too wistful an eye, will never bestir themselves to help the onward progress; they will hardly believe that progress is possible. To them, antiquity is synonymous with wisdom and every improvement is a dangerous innovation. In this state Europe lingered for many centuries; in this state Spain still lingers. Hence the Spaniard is remarkable for an inertness which Europe [illegible] which in our busy and enterprising age, isolates them from the rest of the civilized world. [illegible] that little can be done, they are in no hurry to do it. Believing that the knowledge that they have inherited is far greater than any they can obtain, they wish to preserve their intellectual possessions whole and unimpaired, inasmuch as the least alteration in them might lessen their value. Content with what has already been bequeathed they are excluded from the great European movement, which, first clearly perceptible in the sixteenth century has ever since been steadily advancing, unsettling old opinions, destroying old fallacies, reforming and improving in every direction, influencing even such barbarous countries as Russia and Turkey, but leaving Spain unscathed. While the human intellect has been making the most prodigious and unheard of strides, while discoveries from every quarter are pressing upon us, and coming in such rapid succession that the strongest sight [illegible] by their glare [illegible] their splendor is unable to [illegible] them as a whole, while other discoveries still more important and still more remarkable [illegible] are constantly approaching and may be seen in the distance whence they are now barely working on the advanced thinkers who are nearest to them, filling their minds with those ill defined realities and almost uneasy feelings which are the invariable harbingers of future triumphs, while the veil is being rudely torn, and nature, violated at all points, is forced to disclose her secrets and reveal her [illegible] her economy and her laws to the indomitable energy of man, while Europe is ringing with the noise of her intellectual achievements, with which even despotic governments affect to sympathize in order that they may divert them from their natural course and use them as new [illegible] while [illegible] this general din and excitement the public mind swayed to and fro is tossed and agitated, Spain sleeps on unheeded, impassive, receiving no impressions from the rest of the world and making no impression upon it. There she lies at the further extremity of the continent, a huge and torpid mass, the sole representative now remaining of the feelings and knowledge of the Middle Ages. And what is the worst symptom of all she is satisfied with her own condition. Though she is the most backward country in Europe she believes herself to be the foremost. She is proud of every thing of which she ought to be ashamed. She is proud of the antiquity of her opinions; proud of her orthodoxy; proud of the strength of her faith; proud of her immeasurable and childish credulity; proud of her unwillingness [illegible] proud of her hatred to foreign [illegible] and proud of the unvarying [illegible] with which she has baffled their [illegible] to a full and legal establishment on her soil.

All these things conspiring together [illegible] in the aggregate that melancholy exhibition [illegible] which we give the collective name of Spain. The history of that single word is the history of nearly every vicissitude of which the human species is capable. It comprises the extremes of strength and weakness; of unbounded wealth and abject poverty. It is the history of the mixing of different races, languages and bloods. It includes almost every political combination which the wit of man can devise; laws infinite in variety as well as in number; constitutions of all kinds from the most stringent to the most liberal. Democracy, anarchy, government by priests, government by municipalities, government by nobles, government by foreigners, have been tried and tried in vain. Maternal appliances have been lavishly used; arts invented and at times [illegible] from abroad; manufactures set up; communications opened; roads made; canals dug; mines worked, harbors refitted. In a word there has been every sort of alteration of [illegible] there has been every possible change except a change in knowledge. And the result [illegible] in spite of the efforts of successive governments, in spite of the influence of foreign customs, and in spite of those physical ameliorations which just touch the surface of society, but are unable to penetrate beneath, there are no signs of national progress, the priests are rather gaining ground than losing it; the slightest attack on the church rouses the people; while even the dissoluteness of the clergy, and the odious vices which in the present century, have stained the throne can do naught to lessen either the superstition [illegible] loyalty which the accumulated force of many centuries has graven on the minds and eaten into the hearts of the Spanish nation.

Mr Zachariah Wilson, Portland Oregon writes:

It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced—its curing me of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago of long standing entitles Dr. Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Earache, Distressing Pains etc."

John English of Howell Prairie, Marion county, Oregon writes:

I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and extremities accompanied with a severe cough for two months so that I had to use crutches; meanwhile trying all remedies in common use. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief, and I was able to walk in a few days without crutches. I have not felt any rheumatism since. I have seen your family medicines used with excellent success. I have no hesitancy in saying it is the best preparation for family use ever tried for those complaints. I am now on my way to South America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I must now have two dozens Balsam and two dozens [illegible] Magic Oil dollar bottles as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon and I would not be without them in my house, and when this package of medicine is exhausted I will send to your office in Portland for a fresh supply.

EXTINGUISHER

PORTABLE

SELF ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more instantaneous manner than has hitherto been discovered.

The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows:

Every fire begins on a small scale and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand.

The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.

It is always ready for use, though standing unused for years.

It puts out Fire instantly.

It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose.

It is as safe to use in the hands of a lady as the most experienced Fireman.

It is portable and as easily handled as a bucket of water.

It possesses within itself the power of a force pump and as effective as a Steam Engine.

It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar, Naphtaline and combustible materials now in common use.

TO ALL WHO ARE INTERESTED

IN THE TRIUMPH OF

REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES

THE IRISH REPUBLIC NEWSPAPER PUBlished in New York City is devoted to the promulgation of the principles of the Republican party. It is now engaged in a bitter and most arduous struggle with all the reactionary elements which have so long controlled the votes of adopted citizens of Irish birth. Its circulation and influence are being widely extended, but as in all such enterprises the results are all owing to the efforts at maintaining and extending that influence. The paper is a large and handsome Weekly, published at a low price of five dollars per annum. We propose to devote our columns to the great work of the pending campaign. We will send the Irish Republic for [illegible] [illegible] in packages of ten and upwards.

Members of Congress and all who are concerned in the triumph of Republican principles will find the Republic an efficient campaign document.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as [illegible] Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they often suffer until death loses the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and their places. Be therefore cautious and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quack pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE, NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE, G. K. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER, ROB'T RAMPEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.
